Acknowledgement of Country

We acknowledge and pay respect to the original owners of the land on which we work and live, and respect their ongoing custodianship of the land. We also acknowledge and pay respect to the Tasmanian Aboriginal people and Elders past and present.

Admission

Under the agreement on funding public hospitals made between the Commonwealth and State Governments, you must choose whether you wish to be a public or private patient when admitted for care at the RHH.

As a public patient, you will be treated by doctors nominated by the RHH to provide your medical treatment, and you will not be charged for medical or hospital services. You cannot choose to be treated by a particular doctor and will not usually be provided with a bed in a single room.

Your treating clinician will discuss the options and recommendations for your treatment.

You may consent to their advice, or you may refuse treatment. If you refuse the treatment recommended or refuse to participate in recommended tests, you will be given details of the likely or potential result of your refusal. If you refuse, you cannot hold others responsible for the outcome.

You may discharge yourself from the RHH at any time.

Visitor Information

Visiting hours are 2:00 pm to 7:00 pm daily. However, this can change. Notices relating to visiting hours and visitor numbers will be posted at hospital entrances. Some areas, such as the Intensive Care Unit, Neonatal and Intensive Care Unit and Emergency Department, have restricted visiting.

You can decide whether you wish to receive visitors. In situations where visitors to a patient may not be clinically, socially, or legally advisable, the hospital has the authority to restrict access to that patient. You may have your details excluded from the enquiry information database.

At certain times visitors may be asked to leave the bedside while clinical and personal care procedures are carried out.

Visitors are expected to behave in a respectful manner to staff, other patients and visitors. Visitors will be excluded for any aggressive behaviour.

Hospital Staff

Your treatment is managed by a specialist doctor (called a consultant) who is primarily responsible for your medical care. The consultant also supervises the doctors who you will see every day (Registrars, Resident Medical Officers, and Interns).

The wards are managed by a Nurse Unit Manager (NUM) and an Associate NUM (A/NUM) who are also there to help you with any concerns.

Other staff include registered nurses, midwives, enrolled nurses, pharmacists, attendants, physiotherapists, occupational therapists, dieticians, social workers, allied health therapy assistants, private patient officers, cleaning, and catering staff.

Communication

The best medical care needs good communication. If you are uncertain about any aspect of your care, please ask a member of the team looking after you. You can also speak to the Nurse Unit Manager or Associate Nurse Unit Manager.

Decisions about your care and treatment

You can make decisions about your care and treatment with your medical team. We encourage you to be involved and staff will often ask if you have any questions, concerns, or feedback particularly during clinical handover. Please feel free to share your thoughts when asked, or at any time you feel you need to during your stay

Discharge

Discharge planning is a plan made with your healthcare team to support your journey through the hospital to your next destination.

Discharge planning starts at your first visit to a preadmission clinic or on your admission to the hospital. The plan includes an estimated date for when you are safely able to leave. Your discharge plan is regularly reviewed by you and your healthcare team to make sure you have the right support and equipment when leaving the hospital. It is good practice to start planning your discharge from the hospital within 24 hours of your admission.

How can I be involved in my discharge planning?

As you know your circumstances the best, it is important that you are involved as a partner with your healthcare team. If you need help discussing your plans for discharge, you can nominate a family member or friend to support you.

To make sure you have the right support to be able to continue your recovery, we encourage you to talk with your healthcare team about:

- When you are expected to leave the hospital
- If extra support at home is needed
- If you know you will have difficulties getting home
- Any changes to medications, discharge medications and a script
- Any tests or procedures that are needed before you leave the hospital
- Any follow up appointments
- If you need a medical certificate (including Workcover and Motor Accident Insurance Board)

Please write down any notes or questions you may have for your healthcare team. If you already have home care support before coming to the hospital, staff on your ward can help you with restarting this service in time for your discharge.

Transport on discharge

It is expected you will make your own travel arrangements when you leave the hospital. Please arrange for a relative or friend to collect you. Please ask the staff to assist you if required.

Your accommodation on discharge

We aim to discharge you in the morning. If there is a delay or an issue in getting you safely to your next destination, you may be moved to the Transit Lounge on the Ground Floor of K Block.

There are occasions when your medical condition is stable, and you are well enough to continue your recovery at another location. You may be transferred to the Repatriation Centre, 90 Davey Street, or a district hospital to give you time to recover.

Discharge medication

Pharmacists will help you understand the medicines you are taking and involve you in decision-making. This will help you to manage your medicines safely when you go home.

You will be provided with a set amount of medication on discharge therefore, you will need to make an appointment with your usual doctor (GP) for a script for more medication supplies. If you let the GP surgery know you have just been in hospital, they will usually try to make an appointment within an appropriate time for you. Information will be sent to your GP or health clinic, so that your doctor will have an up to date record about your hospital treatment.

There is a co-payment fee for medicines dispensed by the Pharmacy Department for patients at discharge, payable within 30 days at Service Tasmania.

Aboriginal Health

Carers in Hospital

If you have specific needs looked after by carers at home, please discuss with your treating team.

CARE Call

Care Call has been set up to help consumers, patients, carers, and families escalate concerns about a person's worsening health condition. You know yourself and your loved ones best, so if you notice a change in their health condition that you believe is not being responded to appropriately, we want to hear from you.

3 step process

You can make a CARE Call 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Before calling, follow the three step process below.

1. Tell staff

Speak to a staff member about your concerns (nurse, midwife, doctor, ambulance paramedic or other staff member).

2. Ask again

Ask to speak to the person in charge of the shift or area. If you don't think they've answered your concerns and you're still worried, go to step 3.

3. Make a CARE CALL

Call (03) 6166 6744 and tell the operator 'This is a CARE Call'.

You will be asked for your contact details and the name and location of the patient you're concerned about. A CARE Call Responder will speak to you, listen to your concerns and escalate as required.

Chaplaincy Service

Compassionate care for the emotional and spiritual wellbeing of patients, visitors, and Tasmanian Health Service staff is available through the RHH Chaplaincy Service.

The service provides compassionate, emotional and spiritual support to you and your family and visitors. A Chaplain is available 24 hours a day for support. A Catholic Priest is also available 24/7.

Ward chaplains and Pastoral Care Workers are assigned to wards/units around the hospital. Staff can make referrals for patients and their families at any time if you would like to receive a visit. Specific religious faith representatives and clergy of all faiths and denominations may be contacted through the chaplaincy service, which will arrange a visit at your request.

Representatives of a wide variety of faith traditions visit members of their own traditions.

You don't have to be religious to seek support from the Chaplaincy Service.

In addition to in-person visits, you can also talk to a chaplain over the phone or via telehealth videoconferencing.

You may request a chaplain by contacting the hospital switchboard on (03) 6166 8308.

Chapel

The chapel is open 24 hours a day for your quiet prayers and reflections.

Morning prayer services are held on weekday mornings at 9:30 am.

More information and details can be found by contacting Chaplaincy Services on their office number: (03) 6166 8487 or through the switchboard on (03) 6166 8308.

Compliments, Suggestions, and Complaints

The RHH appreciates feedback on its services and the care provided, including suggestions, appreciation of or acknowledging good service provided by staff, or making a complaint.

You can do this by writing a letter to the RHH, completing a feedback form, which is available on all wards, or emailing south.feedback@ths.tas.gov.au

If you have concerns or a complaint, we encourage you to discuss these with staff or with a representative from the Quality and Patient Safety Service's Consumer Liaison Unit on 1800 811 911.

All complaints are taken seriously.

Community Care

Should you require ongoing care after discharge, referrals are arranged through a central contact point for Community Health Nursing and other appropriate home care services (a small levy is charged). Ask your nurse for contact details for the service to talk about their charges.

Services provided in your home by community-based providers include nursing care, personal care, domestic assistance, and allied health—for example, physiotherapists and occupational therapists.

Community and Consumer Engagement

At the Royal Hobart Hospital there are many examples where consumer representatives have joined with us to improve the quality of our care.

Partnering with consumers creates opportunities to provide better, safer and more efficient care.

We continue to focus on ways to integrate consumer feedback into health care delivery at the Royal Hobart Hospital and throughout the Tasmanian Health Service.

As part of our commitment to ensuring the community has a strong voice within our organisation, we proudly support our Consumer and Community Engagement Council (CCEC).

The Council is a professional volunteer group to give consumers a say in how health services are delivered and how they could be improved. The council supports the hospital to maintain and improve services, and meet accreditation requirements.

To find out more about CCEC or ways you might be able to be involved in improving health care please email consumer.engagement@ths.tas.gov.au

Emergency Procedures and Fire Alarms

You can call for assistance in a personal emergency by pressing the 'Nurse Call' button.

In the unlikely event of a general emergency, remain calm and await instructions from staff. Please do not leave the ward/unit unless you are instructed by staff.

Regular fire alarm and fire door checks take place. Before any checks commence, a general announcement will be made over the hospital public address system.

Flowers

Please check with nursing staff or the ward clerk whether flowers are allowed on your ward. Flowers are not permitted in the Intensive Care Unit.

Food and Drinks

Visitors and staff may purchase a wide variety of hot and cold meals, drinks or a sweet treat from the Royal Hobart Hospital Café between 7.00 am and 7.00 pm. The Café is located on the ground floor of D Block.

Pounds and Ounces and the Green Panda Cafés are located on the Ground Floor (next to the Campbell Street entry). They offer a wide range of fresh salads, wholesome soups, handmade sandwiches, all day brunch, sushi, noodles and rice bowls.

Gender Accommodation in Hospital

We want to ensure that your privacy and dignity are respected and that your accommodation needs and preferences are recognised. This includes patients identifying as intersex, transgender or non-binary.

You will generally be offered a choice of your preferred gender accommodation when sharing rooms with other patients.

We will do our very best to accommodate your preference.

Hearing Aids

Please advise staff if you wear a hearing aid, as this information will assist those involved in your care.

Informed Consent

Before any medical procedure is carried out, you will be asked to give your permission or consent. You will be given information about the procedure, its effects, likely success, risks, benefits, and alternatives. This is called informed consent. If you do not understand any aspect of your treatment, ask questions until you are satisfied.

In most instances, medical treatment cannot be given unless you have given consent (although there are some circumstances where medical care can be given without consent, for example, in an emergency).

In non-urgent situations where you are unable to make your own decisions, consent will, when practical, be sought from the person responsible for you (next of kin) or your enduring guardian.

While you can make your own decisions, you have a right to choose which of the treatments offered you wish to undergo. You can also change your mind and withdraw your consent at any time.

The RHH is a teaching hospital working in close partnership with the University of Tasmania. Many students in the health care professions are taught within the hospital and interviewing and examining patients is an important part of their education and training. We ask for your cooperation and encourage you to participate in our teaching and research activities. Your consent is required before students can interview or examine you.

Hospital in the Home (HITH)

RHH HITH is a virtual ward that provides acute care for adult RHH inpatients in their home, including Residential Aged Care Facilities.

The care required must be safe and practical to deliver at home. It excludes people who require post-surgical care and pregnancy related care. Private patients are eligible, however, not all health funds provide cover for HITH.

Patients can be admitted and transferred to HITH from the Emergency Department or transferred to HITH during an admission to another ward.

Identification of Patients

During your stay with us, it is essential that hospital staff correctly identify you. Correct identification will ensure that you receive the treatment procedure, tests, or medications prescribed.

On admission, you will be issued with an identification band. You need to wear your identification band during your hospital stay. Please check your information details and advise staff if any information is incorrect.

For your safety, staff will check your identification band to ensure that your first and last name and date of birth are the same as those on your medical charts when prescribing your treatment, procedure, test, or medication. Please tell the doctor or nurse if your identification band comes off during your stay or if the information on it is incorrect.

Identification of Staff

During your admission, you will be cared for by a team of doctors, nurses, and allied health professionals. Support is also provided by clerical, catering and housekeeping staff. Medical, nursing, and allied health students may also be involved in your care, with full supervision. The members of your healthcare team will vary, depending on the type of care you need.

Doctors have different titles based on their training and experience. The Consultant (or Staff Specialist) is the most senior doctor in your team. The Registrar is the next senior, followed by the Resident, then the Intern (or Junior Medical Officer). Your team might include a Nurse Practitioner. These are very experienced nurses who are able to order tests and medications.

All members of your team are able to answer questions, or help you find the right person to speak with. If you have any concerns, you are welcome to ask to speak with the Nurse Unit Manager, or the Nurse-in-Charge.

All staff must wear an identity badge that displays their photograph, name, and job title. If you are not sure what a staff member's role is, please feel welcome to ask them.

Medical Certificates

Please ask your doctor if you need a medical certificate before you leave the hospital.

Medications

Bring any medications and supplements you take or have taken recently to the hospital, including anything you may have purchased from a pharmacy, supermarket, or health food store.

Supplying this information assists the medical staff in making an appropriate assessment of your future drug therapy requirements. Please also bring any eye drops, puffers, patches, or creams/ointments that you are using. These medications will be checked by hospital staff and safely stored until you are ready to leave.

Do not take your medications while you are an inpatient unless specifically told to by an RHH nurse, pharmacist, or doctor. The RHH provides the majority of the medicines you will require.

When you are discharged (or when you attend as an outpatient), you will receive up to one month's supply of medication. This will allow you to visit your local doctor to arrange further prescriptions.

There is a co-payment fee for medications dispensed by the Pharmacy Department for patients at discharge and when seen in an outpatient clinic.

Co-payments are based on the cost of the medication and whether the patient possesses a valid concession or entitlement card.

The pharmacy provides patients with an invoice, which must be paid within 30 days of receiving the medication. There are several payment options, which are detailed on the invoice.

Medical Imaging (Radiology)

This Department is on the Ground Floor, H Block. It provides general radiography (x-ray), CT, theatre and mobile radiography, nuclear medicine, ultrasound, MRI, and angiography.

Mental Health Services (MHS)

Mental Health Services delivers care to Tasmanians through community teams and inpatient settings. MHS also works in partnership with the community sector to deliver a range of services.

The Royal Hobart Hospital MHS inpatient units are located in K and J Blocks. The Mental Health Helpline can be contacted on 1800 332 388 and is a 24/7 service for mental health crisis.

Mobile Phones

Mobile phones can be used in the hospital. As a courtesy to others, you should switch your phone to silent. Taking photos of staff, other patients and visitors without permission is not allowed. If you do not have a charger, there are charge stations in various locations throughout the hospital. Ask ward receptionist or nurse.

Multicultural Health Services

The RHH employs a Multicultural Health Liaison Officer (MHLO) to assist refugees, humanitarian arrivals, international students, and migrants with emotional and practical support and helps individuals and families access a wide range of culturally safe health care services.

Information is also provided to people and community groups on health-related topics, including maternal and child health care, women's health, diabetes, preventative health, etc. The MHLO plays an educative role within the hospital setting, delivering training on culturally safe practices to healthcare professionals who work with people from diverse cultural backgrounds.

If English is not the client's first language, professional interpreters can assist in the communication exchange of medical/clinical information at no cost.

The MHLO service is confidential and available to both patients and their families.

The MHLO is open Monday to Friday on (03) 6166 8126. Speak with your nurse if you wish to see the MHLO.

Noise

Please keep noise at an acceptable level and be mindful of other patients in your ward.

Non-Acute Inpatients

The RHH is an acute care hospital that provides treatment and care for sick or injured patients. Sometimes patients may remain at the RHH after they have moved from the acute phase of their illness or injury.

This is likely because they cannot return home (for example, they may have lost some independence), and there is difficulty finding alternative accommodation and care for them.

Patients classified as non-acute must pay a daily hospital fee, as required under the Australian Healthcare Agreement.

This fee will contribute to the day-to-day expenses of being in the hospital, including food, accommodation, and therapy. Patients may be eligible to access Rental Assistance from Centrelink to help with this cost (please discuss this with your Social Worker – call (03) 6166 8354).

Patient Enquiries

Telephone calls from people enquiring about a patient's condition are put through to the wards between 9.00 am to 5.00 pm.

Due to reduced staffing outside of normal business hours, family and friends are encouraged to minimise non-urgent telephone calls to the hospital. For patient enquiries, contact our main switchboard on (03) 6166 8308.

To assist staff in managing the number of telephone calls, one relative should be nominated as the information provider for your family, relatives, and friends.

Further information may be given personally to a patient's next-of-kin, but details of your illness are confidential and will not be given without consent.

Patient Health Records

You have the right to ask to see information about you created and retained by the Tasmanian Health Service under the Right to Information Act 2009. A fee may be incurred if you request a copy of your health record. Confidentiality of your records is required under the Personal Information Protection Act (PIP Act) 2004. Confidential information, including treatment details, will not be released without your consent unless required for the ongoing provision of approved clinical care or by law. To access your health record, you can call the Patient Release of Information Officer on (03) 6166 8898.

My Health Record

Clinicians may also access your My Health Record (if you have one) to obtain information about immunisations, medications, pathology or radiology, medical history etc.

Like other public hospitals and health services across Australia the RHH sends discharge summaries, medications, diagnostics information and specialist letters to My Health Record.

For more information, please visit the

Australian Government My Health Record Website: www.myhealthrecord.gov.au

Pathology

Pathology South is located on Level 2 of Wellington Clinics, Kingston, Clarence and Glenorchy Health Centres. If you are an inpatient, most pathology services will be done at the bedside.

Private Patient Classification

– Medicare Eligible

If you choose to be admitted as a private patient, you will be treated by your nominated doctor, provided the doctor has a right to practice at the RHH and agrees to undertake your care. As a private patient, you will be able to request a single room if one is available. Single rooms are in limited supply and may not be available because other patients have a clinical need for a single room (for example, a patient who needs to be treated in isolation). You will also be eligible for free television rental.

As a private patient in a public hospital, you should have no out-of-pocket costs. However, all patients are responsible for the payment of any discharge medications. The RHH will accept your private health fund payment as full payment of hospital accommodation charges. Medicare will cover 75% of your doctor's bill (specialist medical services fees, including medical tests), and your private health insurance fund will cover the other 25%. While you are an inpatient, diagnostic tests will be covered by Medicare and your health fund, along with surgically- implanted prosthesis.

By using your private health insurance, the money received assists the hospital in buying additional equipment, maintaining facilities, and providing improved services to the Tasmanian community.

Patients who elect to be treated as private patients but who do not have private health cover will be responsible for accommodation fees and any prosthesis used (self-insured). As an inpatient, you may claim any diagnostic tests through Medicare, but you will be required to pay the balance as an uninsured patient.

– Medicare Ineligible

Patients without a Medicare entitlement will generally be expected to pay for their treatment. Health fund or travel insurance details will be requested at admission. If you have any concerns, please discuss them with a Social Worker. Speak to your nurse, who can arrange for a social worker to visit you.

Hobart's Smoke Free Zone penalties may apply. See Hobart City website. www.hobartcity.com.au

Supporting Children as Inpatients

Most small children miss their families, so we encourage the immediate family to spend as much time as possible with their child.

You can play a positive role during your child's stay in the hospital by assisting the hospital team with various routines and being with your child.

Certain restrictions may be necessary so the nurse can effectively carry out the child's prescribed treatment. Your cooperation is appreciated in these circumstances.

Patients under the age of 18 must have a family member, carer or support person present during all examinations or episodes of care. If a family member, carer or support person cannot be present, then an additional staff member must be present.

All children and young people have the right to feel and be safe. Keeping children and young people safe is everyone's responsibility. For more information visit www.health.tas.gov.au

Television Service

Each bed has a personal overhead television available for hire. A radio is also available. Please enquire about details upon admission.

Transit Lounge

The Transit Lounge assists the RHH with the coordination of bed management. Patients may be transferred to the Transit Lounge when waiting for discharge medication, education, or transport home. The lounge provides a relaxed environment with television, reading material, and complimentary tea, coffee, and light refreshments provided. Nursing care is available for patients in the Transit Lounge.

Transport

There is a taxi rank in Liverpool Street. Taxi phones are at both the Liverpool and Campbell Street entry to arrange for pick up outside one of the hospital's main entrances.

To find a Metro bus or stop to suit you, visit the Metro website or app to use the Trip Planner: select where you are travelling from and when you want to leave or arrive, and it will show you how to get there. You can even plan a trip in the future, or filter results to only show low floor buses.

Private bus companies, such as Redline or Tassielink have regular timetables to Launceston, Devonport and Burnie.

Travel Assistance Scheme

The Department of Health Patient Travel Assistance Scheme (PTAS) assists Tasmanians who travel long distances to access medical services in Tasmania or interstate. The scheme provides a subsidy only and does not cover all the costs associated with travel. For more information on the scheme, please contact your local PTAS office.
